Dear Members

There is a new consultation document from NHS England 'Facing the Facts, Shaping the Future' which you should read. The document sets out NHS England's draft strategy to address workforce related issues across the whole of the NHS between now and 2027. Out of a very long document, there are only 2 pages relating to cardiac physiology (Pages 123-125) and there is no mention of cardiac rhythm management.

The BHRS council are currently formulating a response to the document and we would like you to consider sending the BHRS your viewpoints which will help with creating our response. The consultation revolves around eight broad questions with a number of issues addressed under each one.

Please send your views to admin@bhers.com with the subject title 'Cardiac Physiology Workforce' by 14th March 2018 which will allow us time to collate your feedback.

We will publish our response once submitted. The consultation period ends on 23rd March 2018 at 5 pm.

Kind Regards,
BHRS Council
